At Copernicus, innovation has always been the hallmark of our business and our culture: from the day we introduced our Science Block Kit 20 years ago, to the introduction of the Royal Interactive Teaching Center.

Innovation is our passion. It's the muse behind every product we create, and the spirit that brings you the best instructional classroom furniture available, year after year. In the hands of our designers and teachers advisory committee, innovation is also a little magical. Every day, their novel thinking helps teachers encourage kids of all abilities to learn, and inspires limitless imagination that helps student success.

Introducing iRover Mobile Carts & Teaching Centers

Royal iRover[®]
by Copernicus

Copernicus launches the Royal i-Rover, a comprehensive and budget smart solution for your Interactive Whiteboard strategy

Building on 20 years as the leader in the development of mobile and center learning educational furniture; Copernicus has learned that it's the details which make a better product. Copernicus is proud to deliver a multipurpose instructional piece of furniture that meets and exceeds all the needs of the 21st century classroom. Our solution will continue to help bridge traditional easel teaching methods with innovative 21st century instructional tools like interactive whiteboards, providing the ultimate flexibility for teachers and educational professionals.

Every district, school and classroom is unique. Designed in collaboration with our K-12 schools, the Royal i-Rover line of stands, carts and centers provide the ultimate in flexibility to support your interactive whiteboard strategy. Today, educators, business leaders, facility managers, architects, contractors and whiteboard manufacturers have chosen i-Rover cart solutions for innovative applications in classrooms, corporate and community centers and public facilities.

Why a Mobile Interactive Whiteboard is better for teachers & budgets

Mobility – Today mobility means simplicity and usability. Mobile solutions provide more benefits and features than any wall mount application. Mobile interactive solutions provide teachers the flexibility to arrange their classrooms for specific lessons or teaching styles. For teachers moving into another classroom, mobile solutions make it effortless to arrange their new room the way they need, based on the grade they teach or their individual teaching style.

Equality – Whether it's tight budgets or limited resources, a mobile solution allows your schools to share resources, while ensuring student and educator equality of access to this revolutionary technology

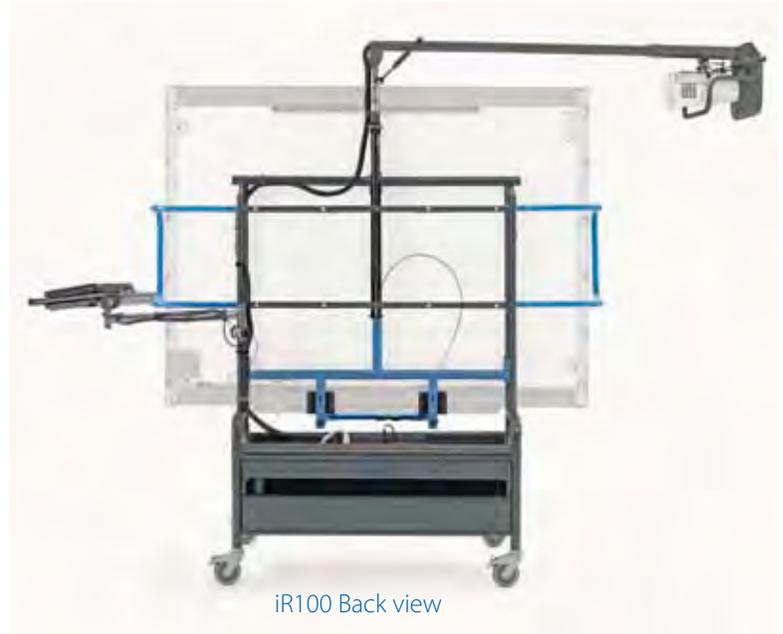

Cost Effectiveness – The growth of mobile solutions is the result of increased costs of installation, refurbishing and renovation as it relates to mounting interactive whiteboards on the wall. Whether teachers are sharing interactive whiteboards by moving from room to room or keeping them permanently in their classrooms, mobile solutions provide the best educational value when investing in interactive technology.

Functionality – iRovers offer "true" mobility, ample storage, security, and height adjustment. Above all, they are designed in direct collaboration with teachers, making it the best in classroom mobile solutions on the market today.

Adaptability – Building the right solution in the 21st century is critical. With daily changes in technology we must be stewards of effective and responsible development, ensuring that any solution we develop can adapt for changing technologies...Whiteboard to Interactive Whiteboard to LCD
